Controlling Costs

Burials

Financial concerns add to the already stressful process of making final arrangements. It may help to ask a family member, friend or clergy person to accompany you to meet the funeral director to help you make decisions and stay within your budget.

Burial costs depend on the cost of the casket, the mortician's services and the cemetery charges. Always ask in advance for a written cost estimate from the funeral home and ask that it include all charges.
• The Casket - It is illegal for a mortuary to charge a "handling fee" if you use a casket you make or obtain on your own. Discount caskets are available online from Walmart, Costco, and Overstock.com among other online vendors. One option is to purchase a simple, unadorned casket from the funeral home and drape it with an attractive material of your own taste.

• Grave Liners and Coffin Vaults - Most, but not all, cemeteries mandate the use of grave liners (cement slabs) to keep the ground from settling. Ask if this is required. If required, a grave liner is usually more affordable than a coffin vault.

• Embalming - If the deceased is to be cremated or buried without a public viewing, the body does not need to be embalmed.

• Funeral or Memorial Service? A memorial service is held without the body, making it less expensive than a funeral service where the body is present. A memorial service may be scheduled several days or weeks after the death, allowing far-away family and friends to gather.

• For more information about your legal rights, see The Federal Trade Commission’s Website: http://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/0300-ftc-funeral-rule

Cremation

Cremation is an economical alternative that is becoming increasingly popular. Families may remove the body themselves without working with a funeral home or cremation service, but consider if you have access to a vehicle that will accommodate the casket to ensure the dignity of the body.

• Options for the Cremated Remains - Ashes may be scattered or placed in an urn. Cemeteries offer various options for cremated remains such as displaying in a niche, mausoleum or using a scattering garden. Family members may scatter ashes in another place of their choosing.

The Funeral Consumers Alliance

The Funeral Consumers Alliance (FCA) monitors the funeral industry and provides educational materials on funeral choices. Active groups have surveyed local funeral prices and may have negotiated discounts for members. See www.funerals.org or call 1-800-765-0107 for more information.

Other Types of Arrangements

Transporting a Body
(Out of State or Internationally)

Transporting a body, especially out of the country, is quite costly. Unfortunately, we are not aware of any organizations that will help pay these costs. We suggest you call funeral homes and compare prices, as they may vary by thousands of dollars. Then consider soliciting donations from clergy, family, friends, the deceased’s employer and/or personal fundraising websites. This process may take some time; we encourage you to begin as soon as you are able. Keep in mind that arrangements must be made between two funeral homes – one here and one where the deceased will be buried.

Traveling with Cremated Remains: For international travel, contact the country’s embassy well in advance to ask if there are special procedures or paperwork. For air travel see the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) website for guidance on acceptable containers. Also search your airline’s website for “cremated remains” as their policies vary. Some airlines require notice well in advance. Ensure that you travel with related paperwork and attach a copy to the remains.

Donating a Body or Skeletal Remains to Medical Science

COVID UPDATE: these programs are not currently accepting remains.

Whole Body Anatomical Gifts Programs

- Any adult (18 or over) who has not been declared incompetent may bequeath their body to a medical school.
- Registering as an organ donor through your driver’s license does not give permission to donate your body. Arrange to donate your body using the “Instrument of Anatomical Gift” form available from one of the following institutions. Families/next of kin cannot donate a body after death (but they may be able to donate skeletal remains—see next program below).
- There are some circumstances that may render the body inappropriate for teaching purposes, including communicable diseases or if the body was badly disfigured, if an autopsy has been performed, or if organs (other than corneas) have been donated. There are also other situations in which the school may not be able to use a body, so it is wise to have a back-up plan.
- The medical school must be informed within 24 hours of the death as the body must be quickly transported and refrigerated. This tight time-line means that families are rarely able to have a funeral service with the body present.
- It may take 1 to 2 years for the medical school to use the body for teaching purposes.
- In Massachusetts, unless the family requests the remains, after the body has fulfilled its educational purposes, the medical schools transport cremated remains to a vault in Pine Hill Cemetery in Tewksbury.
Boston University Donated Osteological Collection (Skeletal Remains)

Boston University Medical school is creating a collection of skeletons for use in the Forensic Anthropology Master’s Degree program as well as by medical/dental classes and by the State Police. The program can accept an after-death donation made by the deceased’s legal next of kin. Unlike whole body donation programs, this program can also accept donations that have been autopsied, have had extensive surgery or have donated organs for transplant. Some Veterans may also be eligible for Burial Allowances.

Burial in Veteran's Cemeteries

Benefits- Burial in a Veteran’s Administration (VA) national cemetery which includes a gravesite in any of the 131 national cemeteries with available space, opening and closing of the grave, perpetual care, a Government headstone or marker, a burial flag, and a Presidential Memorial Certificate at no cost to the family. Victims of Violent Crimes

Benefit- Funeral and burial costs up to $6,500 for crime victims. May also cover counseling for a victim’s family members and for children who witness violence against a family member.

Eligibility- The crime must be reported to the police within five days, unless there is good cause for delay. Applications accepted within three years of the crime. The family must cooperate with the law enforcement in the investigation and prosecution of the crime.

How to Access- Contact: Victim Compensation Division, Attorney General’s Office, One Ashburton Place, 19th Floor, Boston, MA 02108, 617-727-2200 ext 2160 or see http://www.mass.gov/ago/public-safety/resources-for-victims/victims-of-violent-crime/. The application process may take 4-6 months.

Children Involved with the Department of Children and Families (DCF)

Benefit- The DCF worker generally will work closely with the family to make the funeral arrangements and DCF may assist financially. DCF has contracts with funeral homes that are sensitive to families who have lost a child and may make extra efforts to provide a dignified burial at a reduced cost to the family.

Eligibility- The child must have an active DCF case or a case that was closed within 6 months.

How to Access- Contact the child's DCF worker.
Catastrophic Illness in Children Relief Fund (CICRF)

Benefit- Maximum of $6,500 for funeral and burial expenses. CICRF is a reimbursement fund, meaning the expense must have already been incurred. Unfortunately, due to variable funding, they cannot guarantee in advance if they will cover an expense or the amount they will cover.

Eligibility- Massachusetts families of children who had special healthcare needs or disabilities, whose income is 300% or less of the Federal Poverty Guidelines (see: https://www.masslegalservices.org/content/federal-poverty-guidelines-2019), and who have no other source of funding.

How to Access- Application and more information at www.mass.gov/cicrf or call 1-800-882-1435 (within Massachusetts), 617-624-6060, or TTY 617-624-5992.

Child Loss - Private Charities

There are a number of charities that offer financial assistance for a child’s funeral and burial expenses to needy families. Search the internet for specific programs.

Department of Transitional Assistance (DTA) Funds

Eligibility- One does NOT need to have been receiving benefits from DTA to qualify. There are no immigration status requirements. The assets of both the deceased and any legally responsible next of kin (spouse, parent of a minor child) will be considered. The request must be made within six months of the date of death. Someone found dead whose identity is unknown may qualify.

Benefit- DTA will pay a maximum of $1,100 for the funeral and final disposition. The total expense must not exceed $3,500. All assets of the deceased and legally responsible next of kin (spouse or parent of a minor child) will be taken into consideration and subtracted from the full amount of the bill (not to exceed $3,500). DTA will pay the difference or $1,100, whichever is less, to the funeral director.

This is a fund of last resort; DTA will investigate available assets and other payment sources. If payment is made, DTA has preferred claims for reimbursement against the estate and resources, if any.

What does the Funeral Benefit Cover?
Since the total expenses cannot exceed $3,500, typically these funds are used towards cremation. Many funeral homes will work with families to provide a dignified and meaningful experience within the program’s limits. (Also see The Lazarus Ministry – below.)

How to Access - contact a funeral home. They can help you create a plan for final disposition that does not exceed the $3,500 limit. When you apply for this payment assistance, you must owe an outstanding balance.

Application- If the deceased was receiving TAFDC or EAEDC benefits or had a TAFDC or EAEDC application pending, no additional application is needed, just notify the DTA case manager.

Otherwise, you or a medical examiner should complete the application: https://www.mass.gov/files/documents/2019/07/01/Funeral-Final-Disposition-Benefit-Application-Fillable.pdf. A funeral director may complete the application only if no relative, friend or medical examiner is able to do so.

Jewish Cemetery Association of Massachusetts (JCAM)

Jewish Cemetery Association of Massachusetts (JCAM)
JCAM administers an indigent burial fund through the generosity of an anonymous donor to provide funeral/burial support for Jewish families in need. The fund is limited and only available for JCAM cemeteries.

Eligibility
The deceased must have no family, no funds, be destitute, and Jewish.

What does the Funeral Benefit Cover?
JCAM will provide the burial ground, opening and closing of the grave, loaming and reseeding of the gravesite, perpetual care of the cemetery, and a granite marker with the deceased’s name and date deceased. A JCAM representative will be present at the burial and offer the appropriate prayers for a dignified Jewish burial. The casket is not provided. Most Jewish funeral homes will have funds to offer a casket. JCAM asks if that you work with a non-Jewish funeral home, that the deceased is not embalmed.
